Proclamation

OF THE 2007 MORGAN COUNTY PRIDE SPRING CLEANUP

Whereas, the PRIDE initiative encourages residents of southern and eastern Kentucky to take personal responsibility for keeping the region's environment clean; and

Whereas, residents have worked hard with PRIDE since 1997 to achieve a "decade of difference," making the region a cleaner, healthier, more prosperous place to live and raise families; and

Whereas, the annual PRIDE Spring Cleanup is an opportunity for residents to build on this momentum and demonstrate personal responsibility by volunteering to pick up trash in their communities and by taking advantage of free trash disposal services; and

Whereas, Morgan County is participating in the PRIDE Spring Cleanup by organizing cleanup events and recruiting volunteers.

Whereas, the residents of Morgan County are encouraged to participate in the PRIDE Spring Cleanup;

Be It Resolved that I, Tim Conley, do hereby proclaim that the 2007 Morgan County PRIDE Spring Cleanup will be held April 7-21.

I call attention to the 10th anniversary of the PRIDE initiative and encourage all citizens of Morgan County to get involved in keeping our community clean.

Given under my hand this 7th day of April, 2007.

Tim Conley, Judge Executive
Morgan County

This double log cabin built by the Day family, its logs in near pristine condition, predates the Civil War and is located on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Frederick on U.S. 460 just east of West Liberty. Licking River is in background.

A jewel from the past discovered beneath razed home on Day Hill

Only a few people alive today knew that the sprawling old frame residence overlooking the river on U.S. 460 just east of West Liberty on the property of Randolph and Doris Frederick enveloped a treasure from the county's past.

As workmen tore away the weathered clapboards a few weeks ago what gradually emerged was a two-story log cabin in near pristine condition, a true jewel from the past that predates the Civil War.

Built of white oak, poplar, hickory and logs of other species, Frederick is of the opinion that the cabin, which he intends to keep despite at least three offers to date to buy it, is actually two separate cabins, one of which was the original homestead of the Day family and one belonging to the Fugett family who at one time owned the adjoining farm, which they apparently sold to the Days. To some of a certain age, the hill that rises above the low knoll on which the cabin sets, is still referred as the Day Hill. Older residents referred to the hill, which today carries U.S. 460 east toward Salyersville, as the Fugett Hill.

In the memory of some living today, the old home was the scene of many merry dances and parties for young people during the 1940s when the James Caudill family resided there. Local historian Lynn Nickell recalls attending parties there, hosted by one of the Caudills' daughters, Helen Caudill Black. The old house was also the scene of one of the county's most brutal murders in 1971, when Mrs. Rissie Day, the widow of Ollie Day, was killed by intruders who entered the home in which she lived alone.

Doris Frederick, a niece of the late Ollie and Rissie Day, recently obtained the following information about the old home from her cousin, Cheryl Hoard of Huntsville, Ala., whose father, Eugene Day (son of the Ollie Days), lived there with his grandparents (Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Day) from 1927-1931 to attend school in West Liberty.

Eugene Day believes the cabin was built sometime in the 1840s or 1850s by his great-grandfather, Robert Clay Day.

Dr. George R. Bellamy, physician here for 47 years, retires, honored at reception

The Staff of Morgan County ARH honored Dr. George R. Bellamy on March 28 for his many years of service during his retirement reception at the hospital.

A plaque presented to Dr. Bellamy by Tim Hatfield, CCEO at Morgan County ARH, read: "The Staff of Morgan County ARH would like to honor George R. Bellamy, MD for his dedication and service to his patients and friends for the last 47 years to Morgan and surrounding counties on this day of March 28, 2007."

Mr. Hatfield then proceeded to present Dr. Bellamy a rocking chair engraved with the words: "I got up this morning" (Dr. Bellamy's catch phrase.)

Judge Executive Tim Conley read a proclamation designating the day in Dr. Bellamy's honor in Morgan County, and West Liberty Maor Bob Nickell presented Dr. Bellamy with Keys to the City and the official Proclamation that designated March 28, 2007, Dr. George R. Bellamy Day in West Liberty. Senator Walter Blevins also presented Dr. Bellamy with a citation.

Several people from the community spoke during the meeting of Dr. Bellamy's continuous service to the community and recounted stories and anectdotes recalled from their relationships with this wonderful physician, a lifelong West Liberty resident.

Said CCEO Hatfield, "Dr. Bellamy's dedication and service well be greatly missed among the communities as we say farewell to this great physician at his retirement. Long hours and little vacation was his commitment to his patients and friends."

Hatfield discusses latest ARH proposal; union says contract inadequate

By Miranda Cantrell James

Morgan County ARH Community CEO Tim Hatfield last Friday responded to rumors regarding the ongoing United Steelworkers' Union strike at ARH hospitals throughout the region, outlining stipulations of ARH's latest contract proposal rejected by union workers.

The contract, which was presented to USW members on Friday, addressed several picket issues including insurance coverage, wage increases, pensions and time off for certified nurse aides, licensed practical nurses, housekeeping, maintenance and clerical staff.

"ARH is trying to be as fair as possible to make a contract everyone can live with," Hatfield said. "We also want local citizens to know that Morgan County ARH is fully operational despite rumors we have shut down during the strike. Our patients are receiving quality healthcare from highly trained, qualified individuals."

Hatfield, who did not attend negotiation talks at ARH headquarters in Lexington last week, said the proposed ARH contract offered the following benefits:

- Wage increases. Year one increase: 2 percent on contract ratification date; year two increase: 2.35 percent on April 1, 2008; year three increase: 2.45 percent on April 1, 2009.

- Enhanced healthcare benefits. ARH proposed an enhanced healthcare benefit consistent with the plan implemented for management on Jan. 1. USW

Local woman is seriously hurt in crash Mon.

By Miranda Cantrell James

A local woman was seriously injured in an automobile accident Monday morning after she was ejected from her vehicle and dragged by another.

Kellie Patrick, 33, of West Liberty, was traveling west on U.S. 460 in her silver 1997 Pontiac Firebird when at the top of Index Hill she collided with a red west-bound 1999 Pontiac Firebird operated by Emit Payton, 19, of Highway 7.

Police said both cars went into a ditch, which caused Patrick's vehicle to overturn and eject her. Upon ejection, Patrick became pinned underneath the front of Payton's Firebird and was dragged several feet before the car came to rest.

Patrick was airlifted to Lexington's University of Kentucky Medical Center with multiple injuries, while Payton and his passenger, Brandy Yost, 18, of Up-

Call For Volunteers

Volunteers are encouraged to join county-wide cleanup events scheduled as part of Morgan County's PRIDE Spring Cleanup. The county-wide cleanup got underway officially on Saturday, April 7, and will continue through Saturday, April 21.

Volunteers are encouraged to plan their own cleanup events or contact local PRIDE Coordinator Linda Rose for assignment to a project. PRIDE will supply T-shirts, trash bags, gloves and safety vests for the volunteers.

This year's cleanup marks the 10th anniversary for the PRIDE-sponsored event. Since its beginning, a total of 1,374 Morgan County volunteers have participated, donating 5,250 hours to cleaning up the roadsides and streams in the county.

PRIDE was started in 1997 by Congressman Hal Rogers and the late James Bickford, former Secretary of the Kentucky Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet.

For more information about PRIDE in your community or volunteering during the PRIDE Spring Cleanup, call Linda Rose at 743-7817.

Ky. tobacco-settlement fund wins award, N.C. approach questioned

When cigarette firms agreed to pay states $246 billion over 25 years to compensate tobacco-related health costs, the top two tobacco-producing states dedicated half their settlement money to helping their rural and agricultural economies make transitions from tobacco. Last week, Kentucky's program won a national award, while North Carolina's faced possible changes from unhappy legislators — and perhaps the governor.

“More than half the North Carolina state Senate has endorsed legislation that would abolish the Golden LEAF Foundation, which distributes millions of dollars from the state's settlement with tobacco companies,” reported Jerry Allegood of The News & Observer in Raleigh. The bill would create a stronger conduit to get the settlement money into rural areas, somewhat like Kentucky's more farm-oriented program does.

Sen. Clark Jenkins, a Democrat from Edgemoor, in the flue-cured tobacco country of eastern North Carolina, “said the legislation was prompted by complaints that Golden LEAF was not doing enough to help counties hurt by the loss of tobacco production,” Allegood wrote. “He said many projects were approved in areas, including western counties, that did not rely on tobacco.” Burley tobacco is raised in the state's west.

Golden LEAF President Valeria Lee “said the foundation was established to help economically distressed counties, not just those that were tobacco-dependent,” Allegood wrote. “Gov. Mike Easley has called on Golden LEAF to be more aggressive in helping rural areas.”

North Carolina spends only the earnings on investment of its settlement money. Kentucky, which ranks second in tobacco production but had many more tobacco farmers, responded to political imperatives and gave the money to a new Agricultural Development Board, which hands out the money as it comes in. This week, the program was named one of the top 50 Innovations in American Government, an awards program of the Ash Institute for Democratic Governance and Innovation at Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government.

I'm My Own Grandpa Submitted by Rosetta Edwards

Many years ago when I was twenty-three I was married to a widow, who was as pretty as could be. The widow had a grown-up daughter who had hair of red, And my father fell in love with her and soon they were wed. This made my father my son-in-law and changed my very life. For my daughter was my mother since she was my father's wife. To complicate the matter even though it brought me joy, I soon became the father of a bouncing baby boy. My little baby then became a brother-in-law to Dad, And so became my uncle though that made me sad, For if he was my uncle that also made him a brother. Of the widow's grown-up daughter, who was, of course, my stepmother. Now my father's wife then had a son who kept them on the run, And he became my grandchild for he was my daughter's son. My wife is now my mother's mother and that makes me blue, Because although she is my wife she is my grandmother too. Oh! If my wife is my grandmother, then I am her grandchild, And every time I think of it, it nearly drives me wild. For now I have become the strangest case I ever saw, As husband of my grandmother, I am my own grandpa!

Log cabin built by Robert Clay Day predates Civil War . . .

Strike...

According to Mrs. Hoard, "her father thought it was just the two downstairs rooms when (the cabin) was first built, but we may all have that idea because that's how many houses were built."

Robert Clay Day gave his daughter, Cynthia Ann ("Tan") Day Cottle a piece of his land a short distance away and the original family home was given to his son, James Robert (Jim) Day, who was Ollie Day's father.

When the clapboards were added to the home is not known but it must have been many, many years ago, according to Eugene Day, who recalls his grandfather (James Robert Day) adding "the bigger screened porch that faced toward town . . . They also added running water in the kitchen with a pump . . . those were probably in the 1920s and early 30s." Mrs. Hoard said she vaguely remembers the bathroom and little breakfast room being added in probably the late 1950s.

A kitchen, a small downstairs bedroom and the room above them were added at some point, but neither Mrs. Hoard nor her father know when.

The additions added over the years to the cabin were of boxed plank construction, Mr. Frederick said.

Mr. Frederick said he intends put a new roof on the cabin and secure it from the weather and repair the "front" porch, which faces the river, overlooking the former roadway along the river, since replaced by U.S. 460, which runs behind the cabin site.

Frederick said he is sure the old log home is comprised of two separate structures. "You can see distinctly that one of the cabins was moved to the site." The cabin site, a wide flat area atop a low knoll, was a perfect location to build on in the days before modern earth-moving equipment, requiring little or no excavation. Sturdily made of 20-inch hewn logs, with two downstairs rooms and two upstairs, it appears that the two cabins originally could have been joined by a small, covered "dog trot," and second story doorways at the rear of the cabins indicate it is likely that the upstairs rooms were accessible by outside steps or ladders.

With the exception of a few of the logs near the ground, the remainder are undamaged and the cabin/cabins appear to be as sturdy as they day they were built by the sweat of some of the county's early settlers.

Some indication of the cabin's age can be determined by some

Covered with clapboards for unknown years, the exterior of the old cabin, which sits on a low knoll overlooking the river, is as sturdy as when it was built in the ears preceding the Civil War.

Randolph Frederick, left, who with his wife, Doris, some years ago purchased the property once owned by the Day and Fugett families, discusses the notching techniques used to build the cabin with Tim Conley.

Day House Is A Showplace

of the chinking discovered between the logs to keep out the weather. Frederick said wedged between some of the logs on the "up-river" side of the cabin were parts of an old wooden bed, which had been stained (not varnished) and which had holes indicating that it was the remains of an early rope, or lattice, bed, judging by the row of holes that had been drilled into the bed rails.

The cabin must have been something of a showplace when it was built in the 1840s or 1850s, as was the old frame structure that surrounded it in later years, as evidenced by the following article written by Helen Price Stacy for The Courier in the late 1960s. While Mrs. Stacy's article does not agree in some aspects with the information above, it seems to confirm much of the current information.

In early spring, just about apple-blossom time, the Ollie C. Day house near West Liberty makes travelers think about the homesteads of their grandparents. The house is spread out on a broad lawn that extends to the banks of the Licking River, the green lawn heavily covered with fruit trees that make a beautiful setting of peace and serenity despite the activity on U.S. 460 that goes by at a rapid pace a few yards above. All through summer, when roses, phlox, lavender, bluebells and dahlias are blooming, the lawn is brilliant with color, and even into the fall when autumn leaves start to fall, the Day homestead is alive with orange, scarlet, russet and gold. With the highway above the homestead, it affords passersby a view of the old house and its ever-colorful setting.

Not many people know the house is built of logs and that the front of the house is toward the river. When it was built more than 100 years ago, traffic was by way of the river or dirt wagon road. Now it is the back of the house that travelers see.

Mrs. Ollie Day, who was the former Rissie Steele, thinks the house might have been built a little before the Civil War. It was built by Robert Day, grandfather of the present owner.

To satisfy a reader who likes ghost stories with accounts of old log houses, Mrs. Day was asked about haunts or ghosts about the house, but she said she knew of none and if a ghost floated about he kept himself well hid.

Originally, the house had four large rooms, all built of logs. Later Ollie Day's father added a huge log kitchen with a large fireplace. Many years ago the logs were covered over with weather boarding, and more rooms added until now there are seven rooms as well as "halls big as rooms, and other smaller pantries," said Mrs. Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Day bought the property from other heirs in the family. They moved away in 1918, but returned in 1944 and have been here since. Their children are Eugene Day, of Jasner, Ala., Ima Litteral Winchester, and Ruth Herbert, of Fort Worth, Tx. Though the household and its lines are not plumb straight anymore, it is a beautiful place with a friendly face that almost says aloud the word "home."

employees would pay the following family plan premium: year one, $46.14; year two, $59.04; and year three, $66.53.

• Pension benefits. ARH proposed an increase in the existing defined benefit plan for current employees with the increase in the pension multiplier in year two of the contract. All new hires would be enrolled in a 403(b) defined contribution plan.

• Sick leave. ARH proposed that USW and ARH work together to eliminate the abuse of sick leave and is not proposing to eliminate sick days.

• Disability insurance. ARH proposed enhanced short-term and long-term disability insurance plans with some cost sharing, which will be $15 per pay period per employee.

• New flexible schedules. ARH provided a proposal to the USW that would allow the use of flexible scheduling.

The complete proposal can be accessed online at www.arh.org/contract/index.php.

Local 9148 USW Union President Norvin Thompson, a Morgan County ARH employee who attended negotiation talks, said the proposal is inferior to the initial protested contract.

"The proposal stipulated USW employees had to accept everything in the package," Thompson said. "There were still benefit cuts in it that we cannot stand for. We are willing to go back to the table; we don't want to strike, we just want a fair contract."

Approximately 100 local home health, home care store and hospital employees have participated in the strike since April 1, with a picket line established across the street from Morgan County ARH.

"We are currently waiting on the federal mediator to get both sides back to the table," Thompson said. "Our prayer is that this issue can be resolved soon, because it is affecting a lot of lives in our community. We will picket as long as it takes, however. We won't back down."

Hatfield said he also hopes for a timely resolution.

"I am grateful local union workers have been very respectful in their protest," Hatfield said. "Hopefully this will end soon. Our employees are our greatest resource and the backbone of all ARH hospitals."

Anyone wishing to join our community service organization, or anyone who would like to attend a meeting, please join us at Pattie's Place, each Tuesday at noon.

People still stop me and ask what does FEAT stand for. I want to try and explain once again what this is in relation to. Foothills Eco-Agri-Tourism (FEAT). Our corporation is trying to create tourism sites on farmer's land to generate revenue verses tobacco crop income. The money that will help build these sites comes from low-rate loans and grants from the state. We need people that are interested in this project to get involved in the process. Lobbying at the state level is essential to educate the need for agri-tourism. I have tried to generate the interest for several months and have been successful getting people to show concern for this project. We should ban together. Never giving up on the process of this fine project, that can work for you, our farmers.

We have a long lost of farmers that have shown an interest in tourism and the prospect of receiving money that will help get them started. This time of year we reflect on vacation sites. I can't think of a better scene than staying in a cabin with a pond stocked with fish and trails for my girls and I to walk or ride horses. In the evening settled in by the outdoor fire eating food prepared by grill-style and still able to stay close to home with all the beauty that Eastern Kentucky has to offer.

MCMS to host special guest Lee Rose April 16th

On Monday, April 16, Coach Lee Rose will be at Morgan County Middle School giving a presentation from 8:30-11:30 a.m.

Coach Rose was born in Estill county. He coached basketball for 30 years, with 15 of those years being in the NBA. He took two different schools to the NCAA Final Four: the University of North Carolina Charlotte and Purdue University. He coached such greats as Michael Jordan, Glenn Rice, Cedric Maxwell, Isaiah Thomas, Jamal Mashburn, Tony Delk and Jamal Magloire.

Coach Rose's message encourages students to take their education as far as they can. First, he will discuss his life growing up in rural Appalachian Kentucky, and how he overcame poverty to achieve success. Part two focuses on successful basketball players he coached and the attributes the players possessed that made them successful.

Coach Rose works in conjunction with Forward in the Fifth (FIF), a non-profit organization serving 44 counties in southern and eastern Kentucky.

Seeds From The Sower

Michael A. Guido

A pastor in Michigan wanted to find a special way to mark his 25th anniversary.

Since his friend preached the world's longest sermon—60 hours and 31 minutes—he decided to preach the shortest sermon.

Friends suggested one-word sermons, such as Believe, Peace, and Brotherhood.

But he spoke one single word—love.

There's nothing sweeter than love, nothing stronger, nothing better; for love comes from God. Only those who have the God of love, have the love of God.

The Bible says, "Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love."

A letter to the community from Morgan County Junior Miss Ashley Buchanan

Before August 2006, I had no idea what an amazing journey I would soon set out on. This journey began with summer practices and preparations for our local Junior Miss program. I spent many hours with six of my closest friends, learning the routines for the big night. Then, after all of our hard work, I was honored with the title. It was bittersweet, because it felt as though we all truly deserved it!

In the span of five months, unbelievable opportunities arose. I was able to meet America's Junior Miss 2006, Ms. Taylor Phillips, who hails from Woodford County, Ky. Taylor spoke with all of our local Junior Miss participants and even performed her talent for us – an amazing tap dance routine to "I Feel Good."

Next, my journey included work at the famed Woman's Club ham and biscuit booth and the Kiwanis club soup bean booth curing the Sorghum Festival. I was also able to ride the parade, while many enthusiastic Morgan Countians cheered in spite of the pouring rain.

I was able to visit all the elementary schools in the county, where I spoke with the fifth grade girls about how to "Be Your Best Self." The eighth grade young ladies were also a joy to speak with.

The Veteran's Day program was a very moving program to attend, and once again, many townspeople turned out despite the dreary weather. In December, I attended the Morgan County Woman's Club Christmas dinner and the Wolfe County Woman's Club dinner. The Juniores' Club, of which I am a proud member, was able to present a short program at each event.

Then, in January, the Kentucky State Junior Miss program arrived. For 10 days, I stayed in Lexington with a wonderful host family and another Junior Miss. These days passed quickly, and were full of 8-9 hour rehearsals with all 39 participants from around the state. Sore muscles were characteristic of the week, but by the time performance nights arrived, it was all worth it! Dancing on the huge stage, with all the lights and too much adrenaline was addictive! We had a great time entertaining hundreds at the Singletary Center, and although I did not win, I had a great week.

The Junior Miss experience has been full of hard work, but lots more fun. I grew closer to my friends at the local level, met 38 more girls at the state level and along the way learned so much – hard work pays off in many ways.

Also, my family and the community are truly very supportive. On that note, I would like to thank all of your for the kindness you have shown me. You have been nothing but amazing! To the Woman's Club, thanks for the doors you have opened for me. To Ms. Mary Alice and Miss Bridgett Fannin, thanks for all your work and patience. To Jacey, Sara, Jen, Kati, Crystal and Chels, you will always be my girls! To my high school and Dr. and Mrs. Henderson, thanks for your help. To the Kiwanis Club and Mr. Tim Conley, thanks for providing several opportunities for me. To my family, more than anyone else, you have been my rock and biggest supporters. Thanks for your patience! I am honored to represent our county, and cannot wait to continue working with everyone for the upcoming program.

Junior Miss 2007

Holbrook, Blair engagement, forthcoming marriage told

Janis and Leonard Holbrook, Jr., of West Liberty, are pleased to announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Brittany A. Holbrook, to Joshua S. Blair, son of Cindy and Anthony Blair, also of West Liberty. The wedding is to take place at 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 14, 2007, at the Morehead Conference Center.

Margaret Stacy Circle meeting event of April 3

The Margaret Stacy Circle met on Tuesday, April 3, 2007, at the United Methodist Church. Jeanene Jett said a prayer before the meeting and Jenni Ison welcomed everyone. The meeting started with the secretary's and treasurer's reports.

We discussed several things such as Lori's shower and the progress of baby Carolina. She came home on Wednesday. The Mother-Daughter dinner will be on May 8th. This is always a special night for everyone. We plan to have this at the M.S.U. Center again.

The Wesley Foundation will be at the church after Easter so everyone remember this.

Jeanene Jett gave the devotion on Easter. It is a declaration of love. The story asks what Easter would be like without the resurrection of Jesus.

We then enjoyed refreshments that Brenda Smith had prepared. Thanks Jeanene and Barbara for helping.

Those attending the meeting were Jenni Ison, Kara Elam, Barbara Ison, Lois Smith, Anita Hunley, Peggy Weddington, Jeanene Jett, Kathy Walter, and Brenda Smith.

Our prayers and thoughts are with the ones who are sick, and others who need our prayers.

Growing At Grace

Despite the blowing snow and chilling temperatures, several children decided to hunt eggs outside. Grace Baptist Church chose to not cancel the egg hunt we had scheduled for Saturday, April 7, 2007 even though it wasn't ideal weather conditions. We had already stuffed over six hundred plastic eggs with an assortment of candy and prepared cookies and cupcakes and drink mixes, so we forged ahead with plans although most didn't expect many children to come. We were pleasantly surprised by the attendance of twenty or so adults and approximately fifty children, of course it's hard to count little heads when they are never in the same place for very long at a time. Pastor Mike Lindon managed to hold their attention long enough to thank God in prayer for all those attending and to show them the story of Jesus, by using a unique tool called a Salvation Cube. There were lots of games, pin the tale on the bunny, bean bag toss, face painting, an egg roll using their nose, and a duck race, and of course, the egg hunt. All the children got to find plenty of eggs outside and we hid eggs inside for the little ones and anyone who couldn't go out. Last, but not least, we had an Easter bunny with unruly hair and a very red nose after he stayed outside with the children hunting eggs. Everyone seemed to have a great time and we always receive a blessing when we are able to do events like this.

We also received a blessing from our Sunday Easter Service, with lots of very welcome guests attending, the pews were full. The Praise and Worship Team lead us in a moving medley of songs and the talented Hands of Praise performed, evoking an emotional and appreciative response from the congregation. Miss Jessica Smith did a dramatic reading and members of Sacred sang the wonderful "How Great is My God". Brother Mike's sermon taken from John 20:1-8, titled The Napkin is Still Folded was, of course, about the resurrection of Jesus Christ and is why and what we celebrate at Easter. We pause and take this time to once again thank God for His sacrifice, and for His wonderful grace. Grace Baptist Church is located on Rt. 191 in Malone. We love having guests and everyone is welcome!

Morgan Co. Woman's Club celebrates National Women's History month

The Morgan County Woman's Club held its regular meeting on Thursday, March 15, at the Morgan County Community Center. In honor of National Women's History month, the room was decorated with posters featuring pictures of the Woman's Club activities from the recent and not-so-recent past. Members and guests enjoyed looking at the pictures and reflecting on the impact the club has had on the community. A light potluck dinner was held prior to the business meeting. Following the business meeting, the immediate past president, Kim Barker, introduced a "historical" fashion show. She began by reading about the many, many uses for Grandma's apron as members reminisced about their own mothers and grandmothers and the aprons with special sentimental or historical significance. Everyone present enjoyed the festivities, food, and fellowship, and the club is anxiously awaiting upcoming events including the KFWC (Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs) annual state convention in Louisville. At least 5 local club members are planning to attend.

Dedication set for Elliott Co.'s new performing arts

The Elliott County Board of Education and Superintendent John C. Williams have announced that the Adkins-Caudill Performing Arts Center at Elliott County High School will be dedicated on Saturday, April 21, at 1:00 p.m. An open house and reception will follow the ceremony. The public is invited to attend.

The Performing Arts Center is a state-of-the-art facility with the latest sound, lighting and projection systems. It seats 318, and has spacious dressing rooms and storage areas back stage. It also boasts a new seven foot concert grand piano. The lobby and courtyard areas provide a gallery for displays of visual arts created by students.

Funding for the building of the center was provided by the Lucille Caudill-Little Foundation and the State of Kentucky through the help of State Representative Rocky Adkins. The school board is selling engraved courtyard bricks to help pay for programs at the Arts Center. For more information, contact Frank Olson at 606/738-8002.

2007 Morgan County Youth Basketball League

More than 200 young athletes from around Morgan County completed the 2007 youth basketball season with plenty of barn-burning action in regular season and tournament play.

An even division of teams in skill and competitiveness afforded players, fans and family members an exciting season throughout and all athletes are to be commended on their level of play, good sportsmanship and contributions to a great season.

The league, under the direction of Coach Matthew Perry, was separated into four divisions, the youngest being an instructional league for athletes in grades K-2, followed by the training division for grades 3-4 and the varsity division for grades 5-6+. New to the league this year was an all-girls division for ages 5-12 under the direction of Robbie Trimble.

At the end of the season, each player received a participation trophy. The regular season and league tournament champions and runnersup were awarded trophies.

Coach Perry and Kristi Collins would like to extend a special thank you to the coaches, players and parents for their dedication and cooperativeness throughout the basketball season.

Summer 4-H Camp Right Around the Corner

Although you may not have put away your winter coats, it's time to start thinking about 4-H summer camps.

Are you ready to experience one of the most fun weeks of your life? Do you like to catch bugs, butterflies, crawdads or fish? May be you like to swim, enjoy riflery, archery, canoeing, crafts or music. Do you like to go hiking and spend time identifying trees and critters you find along the way. Do you like making new friends and having lots of fun? If any of these things appeal to you, you need to sign up for 4-H camp this summer.

Resident 4-H camps are open to all Kentucky youth, ages 9 through 14. Groups of youths from every county will attend one of the four resident camps during the nine-week summer season. The 4-H camping program provides a safe,secure and fun environment for Kentucky campers. An onsite EMT/health care provider is always available to take care of campers' needs.

Four-H'ers from Morgan County will attend North central 4-H Camp from June 13-16. Registration forms will be available starting April 16 and the deadline for accepting applications will be May 11.

In addition to the traditional 4-H camp activities, the Morgan County 4-H Youth Development Program develops new and innovative classes and activities. Members will have the opportunity to go fishing, enjoy archery, riflery, swimming, canoeing, scrap booking, hiking, and learn about bee keeping, electricity, wood working, food preparation, hand crafts, and much more.

For more information on camps and other activities in our 4- H Youth Development Program, contact the Morgan County Cooperative Extension Service or visit <http://www.ca.uky.edu/agcollege/4hcamp>

THANK YOU

United Steelworkers Union Local 9148 wants to thank the Morgan County community for the moral and financial support given to our cause. A wave of the hand, a thumbs up or a simple honk of the horn is very much appreciated by each one of us.

Most community members have heard the radio ads generated on behalf of ARH. Ads expressing deep concern for patients and patient care and trumpeting the "dedication" and efforts of the local managerial staff to maintain excellent standards of care. But do the math. If the Morgan County hospital could fully function with the number of employees now working, the number-crunching, pencil-pushing, profit-only mindset leadership of ARH would have never hired us.

In the meantime, ARH is staffing union positions with "temporary" workers and "volunteers," many of whome are family members of managerial staff and claims that certain departments have 25 years combined experience. With that logic, one can say that three 10-year-old children have the same experience as a 30-year-old adult. ARH SHOULD QUIT PULLING THE WOOL OVER PEOPLE'S EYES!

So what do striking union members want? We want a contract that treats us fairly and compensates us for OUR experience. Last week ARH and union negotiators met and resolved a few of the sticking points of the contract. We hope that negotiations will begin again soon and that a new contract can be ratified... But we want a contract where employee contributions for health care and disability insurance do not cost more than the prospective raise. Such is the case with the last proposal offered by ARH. We also do NOT want a contract that open ends the number of hours employees work per day with no overtime compensation. Flex-time as offered would make "slaves" of certain employees by allowing administration to schedule employees increased daily hours without overtime pay "should they see a need and desire." ARH leadership needs to check out the 13th amendment, which abolishes slavery!

ARH leadership is depending on marketing strategies to improve its image. The truth is, image and reputation are EARNED, not marketed. The problem with ARH's image lies at the feet of its leadership, which simply has not learned the underlying priciples of honesty and trust. ARH leadership will spend hundreds of dollars trying to construct a reputational mirage, but money never has... and never will... buy respect.

We ask that Morgan Countians remember us in their prayers and know that we, of all people, want this strike settled with a suitable and fair contract. Again, we thank you for your support.

Cougar offense is pounding out wins

57 runs fuel five-game winning streak

By David Patrick

Morgan County – 22
Elliott County – 0

Morgan County scored 18 runs in its first two at-bats as the Cougars cruised to a 22-0 shut-out of host Elliott County.

John Robert Henderson and Matt Harris reached safely to ignite a five-run first inning for Morgan. The Cougars then exploded for 13 runs on just five base hits. Stacy Henley, Matt Harris and Peyton "Bubba" Lauderdale led the rally with RBI hits as Morgan sent 17 men to the plate.

Brandon Evans's team added a four spot in the third inning to invoke the early mercy rule. Matt Harris's double scored both Cody Barker and Henderson. Lauderdale and Kevin Lykins also added run scoring singles. Herderson and Lauderdale scored four runs each, while Lauderdale added a team-high three base hits.

On the ground, Cougar pitcher Joel Nickell was lights out for two innings, giving up only one hit and striking out two.

Morgan County – 7
East Carter – 5

The Cougars scored five runs in the sixth inning to erase a two-run deficit as Morgan beat East Carter in West Liberty, 7-5.

John Robert Henderson singled in the first inning and later scored on a RBI ground out by Bubba Lauderdale. Andy Fannin then reached safely and scored in the second inning to give Morgan a two-run lead.

East Carter would tie the game with a two-run third inning and then take the lead with two in the fifth. But Morgan answered in a big way just one inning later.

Andy Fannin and Tyler Adkins singled to start the rally before Cody Barker was hit by a pitch. Henderson and Matt Harris banged out run-scoring hits and Lauderdale plated another run with a sacrifice fly. Lykins added Morgan's final run with a RBI double to give his team a 7-4 lead.

The Raiders sent five men to the plate in the seventh inning, but scored only once, as Morgan locked up its fourth straight win.

On the mound, Jon Lopez went the distance for the Cougars, giving up four earned runs on nine hits. Lopez also struck out five and walked only two over seven complete.

Morgan County – 13
Owsley County – 10

Morgan County scored six runs in the first inning, but then had to rally late from a one-run deficit, to beat Owsley County in Booneville, 13-10.

Matt Harris, Bubba Lauderdale, Andy Fannin, Jarrod Fannin, Jesse Cox and Jon Lopez all reached safely and scored in the Cougars first at-bat. However, Morgan managed only one run over the next four innings and found itself trailing 9-7 after five.

The Cougars mounted a comeback in the sixth inning courtesy of three hits, a walk and a hit batsman. Andy Fannin singled and Jarrod Fannin worked base on balls to lead off the inning. Two outs later, Cody Barker walked, John Robert Henderson tripled, Harris singled and Lauderdale was hit by a pitch. All five players scored as the Cougars took an 11-9 lead.

Brandon Evans's team pushed across its final run in the seventh when Henderson walked, stole second and scored on a fielding error.

Jesse Cox pitched six solid innings, giving up only six hits and striking out seven. But it was four errors that cost the Cougars the lead late in the game and forced Evans to go to his bullpen.

"The game should not have been as close as it was," Evans said following the game. "Jesse threw very well and it wasn't his fault that we barely won the game. We simply had too many fielding errors. He deserved a better fate."

Joel Nickell came in to record the game's final three outs, striking out one and inducing two ground outs.

Hollon is new football coach at MCHS

Will be introduced to parents, players, fans this eve at high school

By David Patrick

The search is officially over for a new football coach at Morgan County High School. On Tuesday, the site-based council voted unanimously to hire Steve Hollon.

"I'm certain we've hired the right man for the job," Athletic Director Chris Trusty said late Tuesday night. "Steve is an experienced coach and a great teacher of the game. He's coached at all levels and understands what it takes to build a quality team."

Hollon comes to West Liberty from Hazard, where he served as co-defensive coordinator at Perry County Central High School. Hollon was among half a dozen candidates who interviewed for the position. Trusty says the new Cougar coach brings with him a solid work ethic and the reputation as a disciplinarian.

"Steve's personality is a perfect fit for this community," Trusty said. "He's a coach that will respect and motivate the kids, while pushing them to do their best. He's a player's coach and has great public relation skills. Steve's attention is what this program needs."

A graduate of Eastern Kentucky University, Hollon has taught for 13 years in Breathitt and Perry counties. His wife, Christy, and two sons will accompany him to West Liberty.

"Steve wants to be coach here and be involved with the community," Trusty said. "He's the best fit for Morgan County right now."

Invitation to the Community

Coach Steve Hollon will be at MCHS Thursday night at 6:30 for a meet and greet with Cougar fans. Everyone is invited to attend, especially players and parents at all levels of Morgan County football. Come out and welcome the new coach to West Liberty!

Nickell bright spot in MSU tennis

Allie Nickell, a Morgan County High graduate, has been a bright spot for Morehead State University's women's tennis team this spring.

While losing to both Wright State 6-1 and Eastern Kentucky University 5-2 in recent action, Nickell, a freshman at MSU, posted singles victories in both competitions and has performed solidly throughout the season.

MCMS Baseball makes history with first-ever win

The Morgan County Middle School baseball team made history on Thursday, April 5, by posting its first ever win. It came against the Raiders of East Carter in a 14-13 game, despite a bone chilling 45 degree temperatures.

East Carter got a quick start, scoring two runs in the top of the first inning. The Cougars got one back in bottom of the first when Patrick Montgomery walked, moved to second on a ground ball by Cory Harper, proceeded to third on a past ball, and then scored on a throwing error by the East Carter catcher.

The Raiders came back in the top of the second and scored three runs, then added two more in the top of the third. The Cougars wouldn't quit with the top of the order up in the bottom of the third.

Lady Cougars victorious over Sheldon Clark

By David Patrick

The Lady Cougars broke a 5-5 tie with four runs in their final two at-bats as Morgan beat host Sheldon Clark, 10-6.

Lara Hembree walked and scored in the first to give her team the early 1-0 lead. The Lady Cougars then added lone runs in the second and third innings before pushing across a pair in the fourth on hits by Meghan Howard and Gerrica Dye.

Trailing 5-0 in the bottom of the fifth, Sheldon Clark tied the game on three base hits and five walks. But Morgan wasted no time regaining the lead in the sixth inning. Cassie Bowersock double and was brought home on a two-base hit by Dye. Three batters later, Dye would score on an Alyssa Dulen RBI single.

Morgan added a pair of insurance runs in the seventh, thanks to RBI hits by Howard and Dye. For the game, Bobby Bowersock's team collected 16 hits, including six in their final two at-bats.

The win improves Morgan's record 2-1, with a road game at Boyd County slated for tomorrow (Friday) evening.

Patrick Montgomery got things started with a double to right center field and Cory Harper got him home on a run-scoring double to left center field. After Clayton Hafling walked, Hunter Fraley knocked Cory Harper home with a ground ball and Calyton Hafling scored on an RBI single by Josh Lykins. The Cougars had clawed back to a 7-4 ballgame.

The Raiders were scoreless in the fourth inning, while it was the most productive inning for the Cougars. Cory Linkous and Ryan Flannery were hit by the pitcher and Patrick Montgomery doubled for the second time leading Cory Linkous to a score. Cory Harper walked and Clayton Hafling singled, scoring Ryan Flannery and Cory Harper. Hunter Fraley singled and Tyler Moore reached base on an error by the right fielder, scoring Hunter Fraley. Josh Lykins singled, moving Tyler Moore to third, and Tyler scored on a ground ball. The Cougars had a 9-7 lead after four innings of play.

In the fifth inning, the Raiders scored one run, while the Cougars answered with two on walks and runs scored by Patrick Montgomery and Ryan Flannery.

The sixth inning found the Raiders scoring one and cutting into a 12-9 lead while the Cougars failed to score.

The seventh inning was a roller coaster ride for the Cougars. The Raiders scored four runs in the top of the inning to take a 13-12 lead, but the Cougars didn't give up. Forrest Smith singled and Ryan Flannery walked to have the tying run standing at second base. Patrick Montgomery was up, 2 for 2, hit into a fielder's choice, eliminating Forrest Smith at third base. Cory Harper hit his second pitch sending a high fly towards right field. As the second baseman ran and reached for the ball, it kicked off of the heel of his glove allowing Ryan Flannery to score from second to tie the game. The second baseman for East Carter picked up the ball to gun down Patrick Montgomery at third and made a wild throw. Patrick Montgomery trotted in to give the Cougars a 14-13 win.

With the win, the Cougars record improves to 1-2.

Pristine stream flows through Elliott

Rowan County must repair damage to Laurel Creek

State and federal officials were in Rowan County in March to tour the Laurel Creek area that has become the focal point of a dilemma for the Rowan County Fiscal Court.

Current Judge Executive Jim Nickell is working with the state Division of Water and the Army Corps of Engineers to rectify violations for pollution of the creek, which occurred during the administration of Rowan's previous administration.

During the administration of former Judge Executive Clyde Thomas, county workers built a road through parts of the federally-protected creek without a vote by the fiscal court and without proper permits. The work, begun in 2002, was protested by environmental advocates and discontinued in 2004 and an investigation was started.

During their tour, officials looked at violation sites to determine appropriate remedial measures that will be required of the county. In addition to fines, the county will be required to restore the creek back to its original flow.

Since the fiscal court never voted to approve the work, which allegedly was ordered by former judge Thomas, the fiscal court feels that Thomas's personal bond should be available to the county. However, KACO (Kentucky Association of Counties), the county's insuring agency, has indicated it that penalties are excluded because there was no intent to arm the creek and that the policy would not be responsible for any road construction or remedial repairs required by EPA in any case.

The latest estimate for a penalty, excluding the amount of money to repair the creek was $27,000.

Laurel Creek is one of only a few in Kentucky that has been designated as an Exceptional Water Reference Reach Stream and Cold Water Aquatic Habitat, qualifying it for some of the highest levels of protection under federal and state laws.

The stream runs through Rowan into Elliott and on to Carter County. In Elliott County, the stream runs beside a new tourist attraction at Laurel Gorge, the site of a state-funded visitor center. The new high bridge that takes Ky. 7 across the scenic gorge near Sandy Hook was built to keep traffic away from the pristine area.

The road construction in Rowan County was done to join Laurel Road to Trent Ridge Road and to bring the road out of the creek bed because ATVs were using it and muddying the water.

Memory Hill & Round About

By Hazel B. Craft

April 9--Seems as though I never have a chance to "look up". That's the way I like it. This news will be short--don't have much time to write. Many readers of The Licking Valley Courier tell me to keep on writing the area news. So much correspondence to take care--I'm always behind. I tell people sometimes I wish there were more Hazels on Memory Hill.

Not many visitors during this winter spell. I do want to mention Sue Harper, Gretta Tyler and Megan Judd, of Germantown and Camden, Ohio. I was so pleased to see them. Sue is the daughter of a good friend of Memory Hill--Denny Easterling. At present there is a collection of rocks from the 50 states. Denny supplied many of them. The last two were supplied by Shirley Stacy Donley, of Merritt Island, Florida. Many, many thanks to everyone who made this collection possible. David Vaught and Deborah supplied some of them.

Now for the sad news. Recently one of my cousins, Cecil Bailey, passed away. He was a resident of Jackson, a former resident of Frozen Creek in Breathitt County.

Other visitors included Kyla Poling and her daughter, Dodie Mitchell, of Mount Victory, Ohio, close to Lima, Ohio. They made a special visit to Magoffin and Morgan counties collecting genealogy records of their family. They were especially interested in Daniel Williams, an early pioneer in this section. I explained to them how to find his grave. They also were very interested in the Daniel Williams Memorial which cost $16,000 and weighed 16 tons placed on a spot of ground that was part of Daniel Williams' orchard. Todd Preston, of the Magoffin County Historical Society, sent them to Caney. I certainly enjoyed all of the above visitors.

I have several more names to be inscribed on the memorial. Please, if anyone else wants a name on this massive monument, please let me know so they can be inscribed with the other names. A few more spaces remain. The names that I have on hand are three of Dennis Robinson's children. They drove all the way from the Mooresville, Indiana, area to be at my birthday party.

Now for some cancellations. There will be no big sale in May--cancelled until the first of October, 2007. Some of the workers are unable to take part in the spring due to other obligations--Angela is one of them who reported that it would be impossible to help. Surely, surely the sale will take place in October.

Another cancellation is the Directors Meeting the third Saturday in this month. It will be held the third Saturday in October. I must notify everyone.

I talked to Doug Hall, Frank's brother. He said Frank's memorial meeting would be June 23, 2007, at the Redeemed Church. I had a nice letter from Gretta Walters Carpenter, one of Frank's old friends who wants to attend. Guess that's all the announcements.

I know I have left some news out of this article. I have included a memorial and picture of my niece, Patricia Pisciotto Courtney. (See obituaries/memorials section of this paper). Patricia died February 21, 2005. She was a daughter of my sister, Joy Anderson Pisciotto and the late Anthony Pisciotto. Joy sent me the picture with the "Remember Me" poem. Patricia lived several years with a heart transplant.

Joy graduated from Cannel City School around 1950--don't know exact date. I will secure the date and the names of graduates in her class. Joy was a great lover of Morgan County and reads The Licking Valley Courier word by word. She knows more about Morgan and Breathitt counties than I do.

April 9--Mrs. Tiny Burks is a patient at ARH hospital, and is very ill.

Mrs. Faye Wheeler is still a patient in the ARH hospital and reportedly holding her own.

Mrs. Teresa Reister called on Estelle and Louise Caskey last Wednesday.

We were happy to see Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fyffe at the grocery store last week.

Miss Jessie Bates and Miss Hala Ball attended Easter Sunday services at the Broadway Church of God along with other members of her youth group.

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Barker and Mr. and Mrs. Joey Bates were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kelly last Sunday.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to all who have lost loved ones.

Household Hints

- To discourage ants from entering your house sprinkle red chili pepper at their entrance way.
- To remove rust on the bottom of an iron skillet rub with half lemon dipped in salt.
- To remove lint from under refrigerator or other appliances wrap old sock around fly swat and slide underneath appliances.
- For short circuit safety when not in use do not use electric toasters, coffee pot, or any small countertop appliances plugged in. It could cause a fire.
- To avoid toxic fumes in a home never mix chemicals such as vinegar and chlorine bleach.

Deadline for news, adv. noon Monday

Junction News

By Kathy Bolin

April 9--Greetings from the Junction. I spent Easter this year at the home of Ethel Bolin. We celebrated also birthdays, son Billy Wayne Bolin, granddaughter Pam (Bolin) Rowland, and son-in-law, Gary Cantrell. Our Easter dinner consisted of hotdogs and hamburgers prepared outside on a grill. It was too chilly to sit on the porch, so dinner was eaten on the inside. Usually, we go to Ohio for Easter, but the last couple of years I have went up early and spent some quality time with my sister during spring break. Easter Sunday was not all about cookouts. On Sunday morning, I took the time to get up early and go to sunrise service at Williams Creek Elkfork Community Church to celebrate the Day that Christ arose from the Grave.

Rhonda Bailey went to the hospital on Monday to have surgery on her heart. Henry Senior and her daughters, Kimberly, Emily, and Heather went to be with her during the operation. J.C. Wright was in the hospital this past week, but is now back at home.

The death angel was again in our neighborhood. Gene Ferguson, the husband of Julie Ferguson, passed away on Monday at Morehead hospital. Gene has been a miracle in this life. Several times he has been told that he had very little time to live, but had managed to pull out of his illness and go on. Please remember Julie in your prayers. Also, Ethel Bolin's sister, Cynthia Jenkins, passed away. She was living with Linda, one of her daughters in Jackson, Ohio, at the time of her death. When I walked up to the casket I just could not believe how beautiful she looked. She will be sadly missed. Floetta Fraley, of Williams Creek, had a step-father, Foster Ferguson, who passed away last week, too. Please remember these people in your prayers.

Couple more birthdays that need mentioned. April Vest and John Leeper. I wondered if April received her name because she was born in April.

About the best news going on this end of the country is the birth of a new baby. Cortis and Edwina Jenkins and Timmy and Shelia Osborne are announcing the birth of their new grandson, Weston Bryan Osborne, who was born on April 5, 2007, at Central Baptist Hospital. Parents are Matthew and Jennifer Osborne, of Laurel Fork. Baby Weston weighed 6 lbs. and 14 ozs. and is the first child of the Osbornes. Congratulations!!

Drug drop-off for prison interrupted suspect arrested

On Sunday, April 8, State Police arrested Sarah Richardson, 24, of Bowling Green for trafficking in a controlled substance within 1000 yards of a school.
 State Police were notified by Capt. Fred Wilson of the Little Sandy Correctional Complex of a complaint involving illegal drugs possibly being brought into the correctional complex. According to a news release from the Morehead KSP Post, Trooper Donnie McGraw, Capt. Wilson, and Officer Dwight Keeton subsequently became aware of a meeting site of the arrested person for dropping off drugs that were to be brought into the prison.
 According to a news release by the Morehead KSP Post, Sgt. Kenneth K. Bowman was contacted and went to the location and met the suspect, who was dropping off the narcotics, at which time she was arrested by Trooper McGraw.
 The incident remains under investigation and other arrests and charges are pending.

Leaky dam cause of East Ky. Power Co-op rate hike

The leaky dam that impounds the largest man-made lake in the Eastern U.S. is a factor in an emergency rate increase granted yesterday to East Kentucky Power Cooperative, a power generator whose 16 distribution co-ops serve half a million people in most of the state’s counties, reports The Courier-Journal.
 “The water level was lowered to relieve stress on the dam, and that is forcing the utility to extend its water-intake pipes for a coal-fired power plant next to the lake. And the plant can no longer rely on relatively inexpensive power during periods of peak demand from a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers hydropower plant at the dam,” explains James Bruggers, the Louisville newspaper’s environmental writer.
 “But those projected costs were just one of several factors cited by the Kentucky Public Service Commission in granting the utility interim rate relief while it weighs an even bigger rate request — for $43 million in additional revenues,” Bruggers writes. “Typical residential customers whose power comes from the Winchester-based nonprofit wholesaler could see their monthly bills increase by about 2 percent, or $1.50, according to figures from East Kentucky. If the larger increase is granted later this year, the bill at a typical home could go up 4 percent to 7 percent, or $3 to $5, the utility said.”

Junior Miss now a predominantly rural contest

Bridget Wos was one of six contestants in the Junior Miss pageant in Colton, Wash., where Jessica Kowal traveled to tell readers of The New York Times how the pageants have reverted to rurality.
 “As it celebrates its 50th anniversary, Junior Miss has been all but abandoned by city and suburban girls who favor bustier, lustier, Trump-owned contests like Miss USA and Miss Teen USA,” Kowal writes. “Once broadcast by NBC and CBS and sponsored by Coca-Cola, Junior Miss counts Diane Sawyer and Debra Messing among its national and state winners, respectively. Yet big sponsors have evaporated, and officials announced that Junior Miss would end in 2005, before state and local volunteers demanded its resurrection.”
 Fewer than 6,000 high-school juniors are expected to be in the pageants this year, less than half the 12,000 in the 1990s. “Life in general is more shallow, and we’ve been pressured to do the swimsuits and to be the glitz and glamour, We’re not going to do that,” said Becky Jo Peterson, the executive director of America’s Junior Miss, which is based in Mobile, Ala., and requires contestants to take part in a talent competition and a group fitness routine and interpret a famous person’s quotation.
 In Colton, population 415, “where everyone knows everyone and most students do not put locks on their lockers,” contestant Celia Jeanette Becker told Kowal, “We’re more focused on getting along with each other and acting like ourselves, rather than having to glamour up to impress people.”

FOUR THINGS MONEY CAN'T BUY

You can win it with love, or a tender caress, and a trinket once in a while. But you can't, with all the wealth in the world, buy a tiny baby's smile. All the power on earth can't stop old time from constantly rolling on. And all the gold that this world can hold can't bring back youth when it's gone, and though you possess the wealth of kings and castles that reach to the sky, a good friend's love, so faithful and true, is something that money can't buy. They say a man's reach should exceed his grasp or what is Heaven for? The sublimest thing that money can't buy is a pass through Heaven's door.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY MOM

Marcella Chambers Boyd April 12, 1944 • March 8, 2003 Mom, four years have passed since you went away. Time has not yet healed our hearts and we miss you each and every day.

We know that you would not want us to be sad and blue. We will try to be strong and we will cherish all of the wonderful memories that we made with you.

When we see you again it will be such a glad reunion day. We will all be able to celebrate your birthday together again and all of the heartache and tears will have vanished away. Everything will be the way it used to be only better. Time will no longer be important and distance won't stand in the way anymore. We will all be at home where we will live forever.

You are loved and missed by your children, David, Donna, Trish, Connie, and Tami (pd)

In Loving Memory Of Patricia Pisciotto Courtney

May 30, 1954 • Feb. 21, 2005 Remember Me

Remember me when flowers bloom

Early in the spring

Remember me on sunny days

In the fun that summer brings

Remember me in the fall

As you walk through the leaves of gold

And in the wintertime-- remember me

In the stories that are told

But most of all remember Each day--right from the start

I will be forever near

For I live within your heart

Patricia is a daughter of Joy Anderson Pisciotto and the late Anthony Pisciotto. The above picture came from Patricia's high school graduation book. She was the wife of Charles Courtney, mother of Kelly Erin, Courtney and Jack Ryan Courtney.

A LETTER TO PAPAW

God called you home, he needed a man who was true and kind.

There's not only a missing place at Mamaw's table, but there's also a missing place in all our hearts.

You left two smart and beautiful great granddaughters behind.

The one you didn't get to meet looks just like Jason, Papaw you'd be so proud.

The most important thing I learned from you is kindness.

The day that we laid your body to rest a hummingbird came to the door, as if to remind us that you will forever live in our hearts and that your soul is home.

Love always,

Your granddaughter,

Andrea Murphy

See you in heaven someday.

(In loving memory of Roger Pelfrey who died April 13, 2006).

The guy with the running shoes responds, "I don't have to outrun the bear. I just have to outrun you."

SMART LANDSCAPING REAPS LOWER ELECTRIC BILLS

Spring is tree-planting time. Strategically placing greenery around your yard in March and April can mean energy savings all summer long.

Strategically placed trees can do more than just make a home look good. They can shade it from the hot summer sun well enough to cut cooling bills by as much as a quarter.

Planting shade trees like oak, white ash, linden, and honey locust on the south side of a home throws shade on the walls and windows that otherwise would soak up the hot sun. This can lower the temperature of a home by six to eight degrees and have the same effect as increasing the insulation value in a wall by 30 percent. In addition, smart landscaping can reduce the amount of energy a home uses for heating and cooling by up to 25 percent.

Because shade trees lose their leaves in the fall, they don't block the sun's warming rays in the winter.

Governor signs $6 million “Boni Bill” into law

FRANKFORT, Ky. – Governor Ernie Fletcher last week signed Senate Bill 59 – the “Boni Frederick Memorial Bill” – into law. The new law provides $6 million to improve safety for state human services workers and hire more staff. The Governor announced the signing during a ceremony at a Department for Community Based Services (DCBS) office in Louisville.

The Boni Frederick Memorial Bill provides $3.5 million to fund security improvements at state child welfare offices and additional visitation centers for birth parents and their children in foster care. Another $2.5 million will be used to hire additional front-line staff.

“The new law is a good start for the changes we need to bolster the security of the child protection system,” Governor Fletcher said. “The measures I signed into law today will protect both social services staff and the families – particularly the children – they serve.”

The legislation is named for Boni Frederick, a Morganfield social services aide who died in the line of duty last October. Frederick, who worked in the Kentucky Cabinet for Health and Family Services (CHFS) in its Union County DCBS office, was responsible for transporting state foster children to medical appointments and visits with birth parents.

The law also calls for the implementation of several safety elements, including giving staff devices enabled with “panic buttons” and global positioning system capabilities.

Governor Fletcher and CHFS Secretary Mark D. Birdwhistell signed a declaration of emergency circumstances releasing the law’s funding to CHFS immediately.

“One of the best aspects of this law is that social services workers will see a difference almost immediately,” said Sen. Charlie Borders (R-Russell). “Their office security will be tightened, and with faster access to criminal records of families being served, they will know sooner when something is amiss.”

Rep. Tom Burch (D-Louisville), said, “Passage of the Boni Bill is just the beginning of a safety net for our social workers and we plan to do more in the near future.”

Under the new law, local DCBS offices will receive security enhancements such as buzzer-entry systems that restrict access to staff work areas from front lobbies. DCBS staff will also have 24-hour access to criminal records.

Birdwhistell said he and his staff welcome the long-sought legislation.

“From the tragedy of Ms. Frederick’s death has emerged much-needed support for improving the safety of our social services staff, as well as an awareness of the valuable work they perform each and every day,” Secretary Birdwhistell said.

Another of the law’s measures establishes a work group to include cabinet representatives and community advocates who will study child welfare and suggest methods for improving the system.

At the event, Governor Fletcher also signed HJR 137, a resolution that provides resources to the CHFS Office of the Ombudsman to allow staff to review complaints stemming from child protective services cases.

Little Sammy, age four, had surgery. It was necessary that he take his meals intravenously for a while.

After the nurse explained the situation and started to administer the glucose, little Sammy asked, “Aren’t you going to say grace?”

The habit of giving thanks is a brave and cheerful habit. It’s an antiseptic. It destroys the poison of grumbling. It’s an antitoxin. It dissolves the poison of greed. It’s a vaccine. It defeats the poison of grief.

Like the little boy asked, “Aren’t you going to say grace?”

St. Claire Regional receives quality surgical care award

MOREHEAD, Ky, March 22— St. Claire Regional was recently honored with the SCIP6 Commitment to Quality Award. The Surgical Care Improvement Project (SCIP) is a national quality partnership of organizations focused on improving surgical care by significantly reducing surgical complications. The focus of SCIP6 is to support the national SCIP project by accelerating improvements in surgical care through a forum of learning, sharing best practices, and promoting best practices and system improvements on a local and regional level.

The award was presented jointly by David Hunt, MD, FACS, Medical Officer, Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) and Dale Bratzler, DO, MPH, Principal Clinical Coordinator, Oklahoma Foundation for Medical Quality on behalf of the Quality Improvement Organizations (QIOs) leading SCIP6.

More than 40 million operations are performed in the United States each year, many of them complicated by infection, blood clots and heart problems, among other adverse events. These complications take a toll not only on the patients, but also on the overall cost of health care across the country. A significant percentage of these complications are preventable.

St. Claire Regional has committed time, resources and efforts to the SCIP6 collaborative. "We are pleased to honor St. Claire Regional with the SCIP6 Commitment to Quality Award. With hospitals and health care providers from different states in close communication, we can develop processes to reduce the rate of surgical complications," said Barbara Vowels from the HealthCare Excel the QIO for the state of Kentucky.

"We are very excited to receive this award from our QIO. It provides validation of our continued support and work towards improving the quality of care and patient safety. Working collaboratively with hospitals in surrounding states is a great way to share ideas and information", said Lisa Ray, Performance Improvement Manager at St. Claire Regional.
